RED CROSS CAMPAIGN SWINGS ALONG

Gains Over $5,000 By Thursday Contributions and Proceeds

From Sales—Total Has Reached $21,215.58—Fine

Spirit of Willingness to Help Worthy Cause Is Shown—

Drive Will Continue With Increasing Vigor to the Finish.

Making allowances for the fact that on Monday, the first day of the drive, the working organization did not get in full motion it may be said that the Red Cross campaign for war funds which closes on next Monday night is about the halfway mark. There still remains a great deal to be done before the quota of the Norwich chapter, $40,000, is reached but the campaign managers who are keeping in touch with the agencies that are working in this drive seem confident that the closing hours of the canvass will bring results that spell success in this, the second campaign of the American Red Cross for war funds.

A Joint Subscription of $5,000.

Through the liberality of one of Norwich's prominent citizens the campaign treasury will be richer to the extent of $5,000. This man promised a subscription of $1,000, providing four others would contribute $1,000 each. These from subscriptions were secured and the $5,000 is now assured to the fund. The man further agreed to donate $500 more if nine other citizens would subscribe a like amount. Here is an opportunity for patriotic Americans to show their interest in the Red Cross organization and insure another joint subscription of $5,000.

Reports being obtained on the work in the factories is most gratifying to the campaign committee. Many of the industrial plants of the town have gone 100 per cent. efficient and great results is expected from this department which is in charge of Charles F. Wells, treasurer of the United Metals Mfg. Co., Inc.

Chairman Eben Learned is in receipt of a communication from the Marlin-Rockwell corporation is disposed to contribute $4,000 to the local campaign fund. This is a contribution from the company itself outside of what the employees give.

Several Organizations Contribute.

Recent subscriptions that have been reported are one of $200 from the Connecticut State Rifle Club, $100 from the Norwich Central Labor Union, one of $5 from the Allegro club composed of 12 girls, and $25 from the Troop and the Reid & Hughes company announces that it will give ten per cent. of its cash sales on Saturday to the Red Cross war fund.

Canvassers Meet Some Refusals.

Many incidents are reported by the workers engaged in the house-to-house canvass which tend to demonstrate the spirit of self-sacrifice and devotion to country inspiring the majority of the contributors to the campaign fund. "But occasionally," said a member of the general committee, "the canvasser meets with a point-blank refusal to contribute, in households where there is every indication that they could give if they had the proper disposition. In a few instances these people, realizing the unfavorable position in which they have placed themselves, reconsider their decision and send a subscription to the campaign who called upon them. All canvassers are expected to report all such refusals to headquarters and a list of the delinquents will be filed for future reference so that we may know just who in the community are not standing back of the government in prosecuting this war."

Liberty Bonds Accepted.

Chairman Eben Learned is in receipt of a telegram from Col. James H. Ullman, state chairman of the Red Cross campaign committee in which he calls attention to the fact that Liberty bonds will be received at par as contributions to the Red Cross war fund. It is hoped that a great many of the Red Cross friends will donate their Liberty bonds to this fund.

$100 in Response to Telegram.

On Thursday Chairman Learned sent the following telegram to every resident of Norwich who is away from town temporarily: "Norwich is having her Red Cross drive. We want every Norwichite to participate in order that the Rose may bloom over the top. Will you help us? Inside of a few hours after the first message was sent a telegram making a subscription of $100 was received. More are expected to follow.

Today, St. Patrick's Church.

Today the women of St. Patrick's church will hold a sale of food and useful articles in the Plaut-Cadden building.

Mrs. G. A. Comeau will be in general charge and the following ladies will assist:

erected on Front street to depict the progress of the Red Cross campaign. The red column of mercury has reached the $2,400 mark and is still climbing. The quota for the village was $2,000. Subscriptions are being taken by a committee of canvassers. Anyone not reached by a canvasser may contribute through the overseer in his department of the mill or at the mill office.
